ARTICLE IX

VOTING, ELECTION AND POLLING

Section 1. General. At every meeting of the membership, each member in good standing shall be entitled to one vote on any question put before the membership, except as provided for in Article III, Section 4. Voting is to be made in person and there is no provision for absentee voting. The vote on any question will be an “aye” or “nay” voice vote, as called for by the Chair when appropriate, or as may be otherwise provided for herein. Any voting member may question a voice vote and may request that the membership present be polled by roll call.

Section 2. Elections. At the close of new business at the last membership meeting in the third (3rd) quarter, the President shall name a Nominating Committee comprised of not less than three (3) Past Presidents/Past Presiding Officers, all of whom are in good standing. The Nominating Committee will be responsible for selecting and recommending a slate of candidates to serve as Officers and Directors for the coming year. Past Presidents/Past Presiding Officers are prohibited from running for elected office being considered. At this time, the President will also advise the members present that additional nominations will be accepted from the floor at the Annual Meeting. Membership shall be notified no later than the fourth (4th) quarter meeting with the results posted on the Association’s website. Also, the Secretary will be directed to advise all members to this effect in the Notice of the Annual Meeting. The outgoing President will have the prerogative of automatically serving as the Chairperson of the Board for the coming year if he or she should so desire. At the Annual Meeting, under the New Business part of the agenda, the President will call for the report of the recommended Officers and Directors. The Nominating Committee Chairperson will then read the names of the Officer candidates, one at a time and after each name is read, he or she will call for floor nominations. If there are no floor nominations, the Nominating Committee Chairperson will entertain a motion that the Secretary cast one (1) unanimous ballot for the Office called. This procedure shall be followed for each officer position. The Nominating Committee Chairman will then call the names of the nominated Directors (five (5) or six (6), depending upon the decision of the President regarding appointment to the Board) as a single slate. If new nominations are added, the Nominating Committee Chairperson will move on to balloting for such contested office(s).

Voting for contested office(s) will be by secret ballot and the Secretary will distribute blank ballots to each voting member present. The Nominating Committee Chairperson will then read the names of the candidates for each contested Officer position and the members will mark their ballots accordingly. In the event there are additional members nominated for the Board, the members will select five (5) or six (6) (if the outgoing President does not wish to serve) names from those nominated and mark their ballots accordingly. When the balloting has been completed, the President will appoint a special Election Committee comprised of three (3) members who will collect the ballots and tabulate them while the meeting is in recess. When tabulation is completed, the Nominating Committee Chairperson will call the meeting back to order and the special Election Committee will then report the results. At this point, the President will dissolve any remaining Special Committees and call for the new Officers to take their places. Nominations for the Award of Life Member, consistent with Article III, Section 4. are tantamount to election, unless opposed from the floor when read by the President.

The newly elected Board will have a meeting immediately following the close of the Annual Meeting and will elect a Chairperson, if necessary. The President will be notified of his or her selection immediately thereafter.

The ballots cast in a contested election will be kept by the Secretary and will be made available for examination by any member wishing to do so, until the close of the next membership meeting, at which time they shall be destroyed.

Section 3. Polling. Should any voting member have any doubt as to the results of a voice vote, such member may make an incidental motion for a roll call vote, provided such motion is made prior to another matter being addressed. An incidental motion does not require a second and, when timely made, the President will direct the Secretary to conduct a “show of hands” vote of the members present and will tabulate record and announce the result. Should the Board deem a matter important enough to poll the entire membership, the Chairperson of the Board will direct the President to publish an announcement in the next newsletter that a vote on said matter will be taken at the next meeting.
